

STUBBORN FIGHT PROMISED AS REPUBLICAN DELEGATES PREPARE FOR CONVENTION

TREND OF BATTLE SEEMS TO BE DRIVING LEADERS INTO SURE DEADLOCK

Talk of Dark Horse Gains Increasing Frankness Among Political Leaders—Caucus After Caucus Fail to Bring Any Results—Movement on Foot to Make Lodge Permanent Chairman.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Its old time leaders unhorsed and its favorites for the presidency deadlocked, the Republican party will begin its national convention here tomorrow under conditions of uncertainty unparalleled in recent political history.

In the turmoil of convention the only definable trend seemed to be driving Wood, Lowden and Johnson into a deadlock which it was recognized everywhere might destroy them all. The old times, reflecting that it is but a step from a deadlocked convention to a stamped convention, wondered what might happen next unless some tried and trusted leader settled himself securely in the saddle.

Many were recalling the Chicago convention of 1880 when the favorites were all deserted after a deadlock of 35 ballots and James A. Garfield, who had won the convention by a nominating speech, was nominated.

Dark Horse Talk
Talk of a dark horse, in which some of the more experienced practical politicians joined tonight began to revolve with increasing frankness about the disclosures of campaign expenditures. At many conferences those who advocated a dark horse nomination predicted that in the end no man whose name was involved at all in the evidence of the investigating committee could be put before the country as the party's choice.

In the main however, the leaders and near leaders caucused and conferred and brought forth nothing. Even those who held the map hand over a few delegates seemed unable to get together with the other potential victors of party policy. The result was a foggy picture of the possibilities of the next few days.

It became apparent that unless there came a dramatic and unexpected change the first ballot to be taken Wednesday or Thursday will record votes for between fifteen and twenty candidates for the presidency, with scarcely more than half enough to nominate in the Wood, Lowden or Johnson column.

Guess on Strength of Candidates.
To what extent the managers for the leading three can hold their delegates in line after an unsuccessful test is a subject of controversy. There are those who contradict the claims of the Wood Lowden and Johnson whips that their organizations are cohesive enough to stand the strain of a failure to nominate on an early ballot.

In any case, no one any longer pretends to be sure just what will happen after a roll call or two has passed. The guess of some of the veterans is that votes will swirl and scatter again like the sands of the sea. And those who hope for a stampede are counted on to turn loose every variety of spellbinding emotional whirlwind.

It is a situation which gave the bosses of other days many a good laugh in their sleeves as today's developments moved in feverish circles. Those of the old school who are here remained largely to themselves hoping for the best but shaking their heads sadly at the memory of steam rollers used and wires pulled when a leader could be sure to his ground.

The new leaders, however, including Will H. Hays, declared their satisfaction with the absence of the old methods. At last said Mr. Hays, the country was seeming what it had demanded, a convention absolutely unbossed and acting for itself. He predicted the outcome would be beneficial to the standing of the party.

May Make Lodge Chairman.
One effect of the prospective deadlock was to add impetus to the movement to make the temporary organization permanent. Sentiment is strongly against prolonging the convention into next week and it was argued that if Senator Lodge, the temporary chairman was elected to serve also as permanent chairman the formalities might be shortened.

There also was feeling among some against setting up for the critical period of balloting a permanent organization which might be elected after a fight and thus might feel obligated to one group or another. Some managers said they hoped for an argument to retain Senator Lodge.

On all hands it was declared, however, that no decision had been reached. The friends of Senator McCormick of Illinois and of former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, who have been brought forward for the permanent chairmanship, continued their campaigns and both predicted victory.

The movement to shorten the convention found strong support among western delegates who have become greatly concerned over the prospective congestion of passenger traffic west next week. In addition to the advance guard of the Democratic national convention it was pointed out, thousands will be going to Portland for the meeting of the Mystic Shrine.

To make the temporary organization permanent would be to run counter to the usual custom but it was argued that having gone so far in upsetting precedents the party need not stop for so small a matter as organization formalities.

PLATFORM BUILDERS BUSY

CHICAGO, June 7.—Republican platform builders reported progress today on tentative drafts with promises of quick action by the resolution committee as a result of preliminary work. Group differences remained, but leaders of all factions said there were hopes of an entire harmony platform after the planks are smoothed and the shavings swept out in committee. The league of nations plank continued to engross the voluntary platform construction corps. Another difference loomed over labor policies including demands for endorsing anti-strike and similar legislation.

Settlements of both, however, were predicted. The supreme court's decision on prohibition brought renewed discussion of a dry plank. Prohibition advocates were planning to urge a strong enforcement plank with a declaration against any "beer and wine" amendments of the Volstead law. Many party leaders, however, are disposed to keep the platform silent on prohibition with the possible exception of a strong "law enforcement" plank which could be construed to cover prohibition.

Both factions in the treaty dispute worked many hands today, with the hope that solution partially, if not entirely satisfactory to all would be found. One suggestion was an addition to the Indiana plank, which is the ground work of the drafting, of clauses declaring for a world tribunal for conciliation and settlement of international disputes.

The resolutions committee is expected to begin work tomorrow on limited hearings to many groups here to present their views. Committee members were chosen in the state caucuses today with virtually all leaders among the membership.

For the committee chairmanship, Senator Watson of Indiana and Odgen L. Mills of New York were the only open candidates. The national board of farm organizations today virtually completed the agricultural planks which it will ask to be included in the Republican platform. One would exact a party pledge for agricultural representation in the cabinet and federal commissions. Other planks asked for are:

A pledge that farmers shall have "full, free and unquestioned right of co-operative marketing of products and purchase of supplies and protection against discrimination."

Effective national control over the packers and other industries engaged in the handling of farm products and supplies. Legislation to check the "evils of farm tenancy," the perpetuation of the federal farm loan system, the improvement of farm loan facilities and the inauguration of a system for co-operative personal credit prevention to agriculture the same consideration in tariff legislation as is accorded other interests, conservation of coal, oil, waterpower and protection of commercial timberlands. The repeal of the law restricting the rights of free speech, free press and peaceable assemblies, and opposition to any compulsory military training.

Certainly say the veterans, the present convention is a novel one. The big men of the past campaigns, they say would turn over in their graves if they could see a great party gathering going on session without even one boss and with a whole collection of presidential aspirants in the convention city directing their forces.

Upwards of a dozen who are considered possibilities for the nomination are on the ground, although most of them had said previously they had no intention of coming. Senator Johnson made no such announcement, however, and when he followed the example set by Colonel Roosevelt in 1912 and opened his own convention headquarters the other candidates decided they could not afford to maintain any less direct touch with the big show.

Many Dark Horses Mentioned.
With the dark horses and favorite son talk today there was again mention of Charles Evan Hughes along with Senator Harding of Ohio, Governor Sproul, Pennsylvania, Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, and others. Of all those available Senator Harding has about him the greatest number of experienced men in national politics, who would be ready to take advantage of any move that might benefit him.

In its session tomorrow the convention is expected to do no more than to effect a temporary organization, listen to Senator Lodge's keynote speech, appoint routine committees, and then adjourn to permit committee work. Some of the leaders thought if temporary officers were made permanent, thus shortening the first day's proceedings, balloting for the presidential nominee might begin late Wednesday. The general belief, however, was that the first roll call was far more likely to come Thursday.

Wood Bids For New York Delegates
The Wood forces today made a determined effort to swing the New York delegation to the support of their candidate on the first ballot. General Wood was entitled to New York support, they argued, on account of his efforts in establishing the military training camp at Plattsburg.

As a result the Butler leaders began defensive maneuvers. James R. Sheffield, William Barnes and Senator Wadsworth were called into conference and workers attached to the state organization later began a canvass of the delegates in an effort to line them up solidly for Butler on the first ballot. It was admitted by Butler adherents that the fight to present an unbroken front of the eighty-eight delegates had failed, but they said they were assured not over six or eight New York votes would go to Wood.

Refusal to Abide by Primary
Refusal of one of Oregon's ten delegates, Judge Wallace McCamant, to cast his vote in accordance with the result of the Oregon primary, won by Senator Johnson, today developed an unprecedented problem to the convention involving adherence to or freedom from

Prohibition Upheld By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—The prohibition amendment and the enforcement act were held constitutional by the supreme court today in an unanimous decision. While attorneys for the interests attacking the two measures were granted motions for re-hearings, the decision was regarded generally as striking a death blow to the hopes of the wets.

The decision, rendered by Justice VanDevanter, was sweeping. It held that the amendment not only came within the amending powers conferred by the constitution, but was lawfully proposed and now was the law of the land. While recognizing that congress has limitations in respect to the enforcement of laws regarding beverages, the court held those limits were not transcended in the enactment of the enforcement act restricting alcoholic content of intoxicants to half of one per cent.

While New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin acts permitting the making and sale of beverages of more than one half of one per cent alcoholic content were not directly involved, the decision was interpreted as invalidating them.

Concurrent power granted by the amendment to federal and state governments to enforce prohibition, the court further held "does not enable congress or the several states to defeat or thwart prohibition but only to enforce it by appropriate means."

The decision of the court was set forth in eleven conclusions covering seven separate proceedings. These proceedings included original suits brought by the state of Rhode Island, directly attacking the constitutionality of the amendment.

While agreeing as to the validity of the acts, Justices McKenna and Clark dissented from the majority interpretation of the enforcement power of federal and state governments' enforcement of prohibition. Chief Justice White held that the court set forth the reasoning for the decision.

Justice McReynolds declared he was of the opinion that it was impossible to say at this time what construction should be given to the amendment.

The decision set at rest contentions that the amendment could not affect alcoholic liquors manufactured prior to January 16, when the amendment became effective. The court held that the amendment applied to such liquors the same as to any produced after that time.

Regarding arguments to the effect that a state having constitutional referendum provisions could not have been said to have ratified the amendment until it had been submitted to the voters, the court cited its opinion rendered last Monday in the Ohio referendum cases in which it held that such referendum provisions do not apply to federal amendments.

Only one prohibition case of importance remains undecided in an appeal from New York involving the constitutionality of portions of the enforcement act prohibiting storage in warehouses of intoxicating liquors designed for personal use. This case was argued this spring but with the court's adjournment today for the summer cannot be decided before October at the earliest.

PENNSYLVANIA SOLID BEHIND GOV. SPROUL

CHICAGO, June 7.—Governor Sproul is a candidate for president with the unqualified support of the entire Pennsylvania delegation to the end and without any deals," said Attorney General Shafer of Pennsylvania tonight.

"We are for him," he added, because we believe his training, talents and capacity make him the best fitted man to be president in the great reconstruction period. The proof of what he would do for the country can be found in what he has done for Pennsylvania." The steering committee of ten appointed by the Pennsylvania caucus under the chairmanship of W. W. Atterberry of Philadelphia, today mapped out its plan of campaign. Leaders in the delegation said they expected the three leading candidates to get in a deadlock and that on the break many delegates would swing over to Governor Sproul.

MERCANTILE MARINE EARNINGS INCREASE

NEW YORK, June 7.—Estimated earnings of the International Mercantile Marine company for 1919 amounted to $24,595,881, against actual earnings of $17,534,704 in 1918, according to the preliminary report issued for publication today.

Deducting interest on bonds and depreciation on steamers the latter item amounting to $5,225,664 leaves a net result of $17,160,985, or $5,567,910 increase over 1918.

These figures represent earnings of steamers directly owned by International Mercantile, together with returns of subsidiaries which are largely of British ownership.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE UNDERGOES OPERATION

Rochester, Minn., June 7.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, who underwent an operation here today, was declared to "out of danger," in a statement issued late today by Dr. W. J. Mayo, attending surgeon.

Des Moines, Ia., June 7.—Fifteen precincts out of 48 city of Des Moines on today's Republican primary gave: For United States Senator: Brookhart, 99; 1,432.

Chicago, June 7.—Many unbossed delegates, accustomed to an eye-opener or a night cap, came prepared with a stack of "prescriptions" from the doctor back home. Federal Prohibition Director Howard, however, today notified the delegates they must fill them. The result is varying.

Akron, Ohio, June 7.—Three are known to be dead and forty-five injured many seriously if not fatally, as the result of an explosion of a 15,000 gallon tank of benzol at the plant of the Mason Tire and Rubber Company, Kent, shortly before noon today.

Honolulu, June 7.—The Japanese war office has announced that, according to Russian witnesses, several hundred Japanese, including women and children, were murdered at Nikolaevo, Siberia, by Bolsheviks on March 12, and that no Japanese had been left alive in the town, according to Tokio cable advices to Nippon Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper here.

El Paso, Texas, June 7.—Mayor Charles Davis issued an order today that "every loafer in El Paso must go to work" because of the acute labor situation, which he declared was imperiling El Paso industries and the agricultural district about El Paso.

Chicago, June 7.—Governor Lowden exchanged visits today with candidates for the presidential nomination. Calling first on Major General Wood, he visited headquarters on presidential row. General Wood later returned the governor's call and stopped in to shake hands with the other candidates.

Austin, Texas, June 7.—State troops tonight were arriving at Galveston, which was placed under martial law today because of the congestion of freight shipments as a result of a strike of longshoremen. It was said approximately 500 guardsmen would be on duty tonight and 500 more would arrive by tomorrow.

New York, June 7.—Federal agents will redouble their efforts to make New York bone dry, James Shevlin, supervising prohibition enforcement agent, announced today when he learned that the United States supreme court had declared both prohibition amendment and Volstead act constitutional.

SEN. JOHNSON THRILLS THOUSANDS IN CHICAGO IN STIRRING SPEECH

Argument in Favor of His Nomination Put Forward in Able Fashion—California Senator Declares Party Must Not "Hide or Skulk" on the Treaty Issue.

CHICAGO, June 7.—At a convention eye popular rally tonight, Senator Hiram Johnson declared the Republican party must not "hide or skulk" on the treaty issue and must see that it goes before the country this year with "clean hands."

Speaking to a capacity audience in the big auditorium, where the 1916 progressive national convention was held, the California candidate kept his hearers cheering repeatedly as he rapped the "servile press" and the Republican leaders, who, he said, wanted to make the party a "party for the few."

"Some of these men," he declared, "are in the saddle all over the country and are today in evidence in the city of Chicago."

His demand for repeal of war laws was loudly cheered. Another whoop went up when he said the "big profiteer" had escaped punishment through lack of administration effort in executing the law.

Before the great mass meeting, attended by many delegates, he pleaded for what he called "a head up, eyes open" party stand, from attempts to "hide in the shadow of privilege."

Defining two big issues, Senator Johnson declared the first was the high cost of living, to be coped with not wholly by new law, but by unshrinking administration of the present law.

The second issue internationalism, he covered flatly with the declaration: "I am opposed to the present covenant of the league of nations," emphasizing his opposition to the league plan of the Versailles treaty.

Must Dodge Nothing
"Against it the Republican party must take its stand," he declared. "There can be no hiding or skulking upon an issue of this magnitude. In this campaign men must march under the polyglot banner of European imperialism and internationalism, or under the old Stars and Stripes."

Senator Johnson expressed his faith in American business men in general and the standards of American business integrity and patriotism in dealing with the high cost of living, but declared that there was a "very small group" in the ranks of industrial and commercial life whose practices were nefarious. These he accused of "breeding radicalism."

A new epithet, that of "radical," he asserted, had been flung at him by the "kept press." Asserting his belief in stringent application of law to those who "advocate the overthrow by force and violence of the American government," he indicated that he welcomed attacks from sources he described.

"If it be radical to demand 100 per cent service from public officials, and to insist upon justice and decency and righteousness in government, if it be radical to preach that humanity have equal application of law," he said, "and finally if it be radical to be just American, I accept the challenge."

Touch League of Nations
Touching on the league of nations on which he said his "whole campaign" was based, he declared: "Longingly our eyes were turned to Paris during the secret deliberations there. With the presentation of the covenant came our disillusionment. We found not a union of the free peoples of the world, but we found the perpetuation of the old imperialism. "Peoples were forgotten. Rulers remained supreme. Progress was precluded. Every existing injustice perpetuated. "Instead of a pact to prevent war we were given a league to maintain present existing power. Instead of that which would enable humanity to expand and grow, that the progress and to prosper we found humanity shackled and the world put in a straight jacket, impeded for all the years to come.

"Instead of disarmament, everywhere were increased armaments. The hopes of those who had earnestly wished and fervently prayed were blighted and betrayed. The document represented the triumph of cynical old world diplomacy, the defeat of new world liberalism."

Declaring he had fought "for the absolute right of the American people to meet this issue," Senator Johnson added: "We would never be selfish or ungenerous with the rest of the world. In the future as in the past we would ever respond to humanity's call and civilization's cry. All that we insist upon is that when crises occur, when the time arrives, the American people shall determine whether they act and how they act and no European nation shall determine it for them. We want our independence of action unfettered, our freedom untouched, our sovereignty unimpaired. We want to lead our own lives in our own way. We want in short to be just Americans."

Cheered by Thousands
Ear splitting cheers greeted Senators Johnson and Borah as they walked to the center of the stage. Senator Johnson was introduced by A. D. Lasker of Chicago.

In opening his address the senator paid a tribute to Senator Borah, who, he said, "had pioneered the way" in the campaign for the policies they represented. Declaring the radicals of today were the conservatives of tomorrow, Senator Johnson harked back to his defection from the party in 1912 and told his audience he remained "the same man," proclaiming the same doctrines in the same way.

"That which we preached and for which we were condemned in 1912 and 1916," he said, "has been accepted all over the country. I have learned that the radical body of today is the conservative of tomorrow and what seemed radical eight years ago now seems trite and of very little consequence."

"But what I want you to know is, that I'm the same man I was eight years ago. I'm just the same man I was four years ago." "You're all right; you're all right," was shouted from the galleries.

More cheers came when Senator Johnson said he was against the present league. "Knock 'em dead, Hiram," a voice shouted.

Departing from his text, Senator Johnson said that in considering the league covenant the people now are called upon "to deal with this specific contract."

Declaring his opposition to "the present covenant of the league of nations, Senator Johnson added: "Reservations are urged as our protection and safeguard."

Senator Sherman Chosen National Committeeman

CHICAGO, June 7.—The Lowden slate of officers was elected without opposition tonight at the caucus of Illinois delegates to the Republican convention. Senator Lawrence V. Sherman was chosen national committeeman and L. L. Emerson chairman of the state delegation.

The only roll call was on the state chairman, the other officers being elected by acclamation. The vote was 36 for Emerson to 1 against, with twenty delegates not voting and two delegates absent. Delegate Cook from the tenth district, a Johnson man, cast the dissenting vote.

Mayor William Hale Thompson, who presided announced Saturday that he would not be a candidate for re-election as national committeeman and no Thompson slate was introduced. The only clash of the meeting came when Mayor Thompson asked that a resolution adopted by the Cook County Republican convention today be presented to the national convention. After considerable debate the res-

General Pershing Seeks To Retire From Active Service

WASHINGTON, June 7.—General Pershing wrote Secretary Baker today asking permission, to retire from active service "within the next few months."

The former commander of the American expeditionary forces declared that after the completion of the work incident to the recently enacted army reorganization bill his normal duties would require only a portion of his time and therefore he wished to be "free to engage in something more active."

The general did not indicate the nature of his future activities. He assured Secretary Baker that he would remain in the service until work involved in the carrying out of the army reorganization act was completed. He gave the added assurance that in any future crisis he would be at the fall of the nation.

The general's letter to Secretary Baker says it has long been his desire to return to civil life. Decision of General Pershing to retire came as a surprise in army as well as in non-military official circles in Washington. The name of General Pershing, as a candidate for the Republican nomination had been put forward in the Nebraska and Michigan preferential primaries but delegates pledged to other candidates were elected. Political observers at Chicago within the past few days however, have mentioned him among the darkhorses.

He will retire with the rank of full general, that title for life having been conferred on him by congress after his return from France. General Pershing will be sixty years old next September and would not reach the retirement age until 1924.

Refusal of one of Oregon's ten delegates, Judge Wallace McCamant, to cast his vote in accordance with the result of the Oregon primary, won by Senator Johnson, today developed an unprecedented problem to the convention involving adherence to or freedom from been finally settled "what's the use of such a platform anyhow?"

The liquor force have the satisfaction of having made a long, hard fight. The decision of the supreme court upholding the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act put an end to the long argument. There had been some feeling that the court decision would be delayed until after election, although the finding in the Ohio case a few days ago gave a very good line on what the decision would be.

Special correspondents who are going to cover the Republican national convention seem to be marking time. They are well termed "space writers" for thus far they seem entirely unable to "lift the veil" and have nothing very new or certain to offer about the situation. Up to date the guess of a layman has just about as much force as anything that is coming from the special political dopesters. The fact is that they acknowledge they have never been up against just such a convention.

Farmers hereabout who are feeling gloomy about the late season and the uncertain crop prospects should travel forty or fifty miles eastward. In the territory between Springfield and Decatur work is not nearly as far advanced as it is here in Morgan county.

There are thousands of acres in that area which remains unplanted with corn and other thousands where replanting will be necessary, just as soon as the fields are dry enough for work. The situation isn't nearly so bad in this county.

They say the situation in Chicago is so complex and the results so uncertain that if old time conditions prevailed some orator of the "cross of gold and crown of thorns" type might stampede the convention and carry off the nomination.

But the days of florid oratory and of stampeed conventions are both gone. The most effective oratory of the day is the plain, business like presentation of facts with a little ornamentation now and then, but mere flag waving doesn't go.

Rippling Rhymes

NEPTUNE
I watch the oozy ocean, before my door all day, it fills me with emotion, who once was filled with hay. For years my eyes were gazing on prairie sights and scenes, on weary farmers raising their windswept corn and beans; I saw no moonbeams quiver upon a shining sea; some little tinhorn river alone confronted me. But here the leagues of briny roll on before my eyes; they've washed the shores of China, they've swept o'er reefs of coral to distant blue lagoons, where heathen, tinted sorrel, subsist on rice and prunes. By ancient, teeming cities, they have pursued their way, and heard the pirates' dirges when they went forth to slay. They whisper and they mumble wondrous things they've seen; their language is a jumble of all men's tongues, I ween. They murmur and they mutter while sloshing on the beach, but all the truths they utter are quite beyond my reach. And so I sit and wonder what message they'd convey, when they roll up and thunder along the beach all day.

SCHOOL BOARD NAMES SEVERAL TEACHERS

New Teachers in Several Departments—Plans Ordered for New Boiler House.

The board of education met Monday evening in regular session and transacted ordinary business. Henry Wintler was appointed janitor of the Washington school building; Mr. Koyer was instructed to prepare plans for an addition to the boiler house; permission was granted the high school building contractors to use vacant ground on David Prince lot, same to be cleared by September first.

New teachers were appointed; a new geography was introduced and permission to subscribe to the Y. M. C. A. the open air school property when desirable. The proceedings:

The board met with all but Members Fiedler and Duncan present, President Lippincott in the chair. Bills, $823.02 and $93.85 allowed. Salary list regular and special extra, $17,329.90 ordered paid.

Henry Wintler was appointed janitor of the Washington school building.

The buildings and grounds committee had gone over the various buildings and recommended only unavoidable repairs, but did ask for a concrete walk along the north side of the David Prince building, as the storing of bicycles along the north side caused the tracking of so much mud into the building. The committee were instructed to ascertain the cost and report. The high school building committee reported payment of $18,801.83 due the contractors, making in all $96,864.21 paid them out of $350,000.

Insurance of $25,000 had been placed on material assembled. Mr. Koyer was employed to prepare plans for an addition to the boiler house.

The contractors for the high school building were permitted to use the David Prince lot for storage of material, same to be cleared away by September. The superintendent recommended the use of a new geography, which was concurred in.

REO has never been ambitious to make all the motor cars—only the best. From the first, the policy was to make only as many as could be made and be sure that every REO would be as good as the best REO that ever was turned out of the REO plants. That policy consistently adhered to through the many years has resulted in a demand always greater than the possible output of the big REO plants. "The Gold Standard of Values."

Sen. Johnson Thrills Thousands in Chicago in Stirring Speech

Remember that when you once assume the obligation and then sit in secrecy in Geneva, resolutions will have very, very little effect. The way to avoid the pitfalls of European and Asiatic diplomacy is to stay out of this thing entirely."

Billions Loaned Europe
There is a material aspect also, Senator Johnson said, in the league proposal.

"We have loaned Europe $10,000,000,000," he said, "and forgiven them the interest. And Europe offers us a partnership. Its charm is not so obvious from an American standpoint unless, owing us $10,000,000,000 they will sit in secrecy in Geneva and take eight votes to your one in determining what you will do with what you've got."

Jeers and hoots greeted the statement.

Borah Speaks
Senator Borah also spoke at the meeting, declaring that Senator Johnson was the only Republican presidential candidate who was not willing to compromise American sovereignty.

The crowd cheered as Senator Johnson concluded and Senator Borah arose.

The latter referred to Mr. Johnson as the next president of the United States.

Referring to efforts in 1860 to compromise the slavery question, Senator Borah compared it with the present league dispute.

"Again there is a disposition among leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties to compromise a question which cannot be compromised," he said, "and the crowd cheered."

"As in 1860, there has come out of the west a man who refuses to compromise when the independence and the sovereignty of the nation is threatened. Hiram Johnson is the only candidate before the Republican national convention who refuses to compromise the independence and the sovereignty of the American people."

Referring to the treaty reservations, Senator Borah said:

"There is not a single reservation off that keeps us out of Europe."

Senator Borah served notice that he proposed to discuss the treaty issue in the convention and that he did not propose to compromise. He read article eleven of the league, which he declared was entirely untouched by any of the proposed reservations but which would call for the sending of American troops to settle European quarrels.

Somebody asked Mr. Borah if he would be secretary of state should Mr. Johnson be elected, and Mr. Borah replied that he believed Senator Johnson would have better judgment.

Buying the Presidency
Relating how the Roman crown once was sold for the equivalent of $2,500,000 Senator Borah added:

"We're not going to fill the presidency of the United States for $2,500,000. That's too cheap."

"I do not say this because I have any fear that either of these gentlemen will be nominated but because I consider it utterly discreditable that they would permit their names to be considered after they had attempted to control that convention by the use of money."

From a fire escape balcony on the theatre floor, Senator Johnson spoke a second time to an overflow audience that packed the street and defied a sprinkle of rain.

"I would not exchange this for all the wealth of the world or the power of the presidency," he declared.

"This demonstrates that a man who has nothing but the gifts God gave him can be a candidate for the presidential nomination. Whatever betides us in the week to come, that demonstration has not been made in vain."

Some sets of men, he said, were attempting to "make a party of privilege, a property of a guild," out of the Republican party, and these he characterized as "our enemies of today."

"No candidate," he said, "can be permitted to get away with resounding platitudes or glittering generalities on this issue. We shall put the party against the league of nations. The American people have the right of decision marked his mass meeting speech, on it."

Senator Johnson concluded with the same plea for the right to be "just American" that he had made at the Chicago meeting.

War Taken Up
Senator Johnson began his address with a reference to the history of the last few years of the war and the situation precipitated upon the nation.

"The great question now for the Republican party to decide is whether it shall as in the past avoid the pitfalls which the peculiar times present. There are some, now as ever who would make it the party of the few, some who would make it wholly subservient to power. These individuals are fortunately few but sometimes they are in positions of power."

"In their swollen arrogance depending upon the kept press for their justification, they would read out of the Republican party the history of the plain people of Lincoln. They fondly hug the delusion that they and their puppets may act in defiance of the rank and file. These few, and the members of the press acting with them, are our real enemies. I deny their right to draw the line in the Republican party against just common folks. I deny the right of any men to set at naught their expressed will. All cry out against the attempt made by a few today to dehumanize the Republican party."

"Avoiding the pitfalls, victory is within our grasp. After eight years of high sounding phrases and actions wholly at variance, the American people recognize the rescue and regeneration of their government. Under Democratic leadership they have blindly groped in a mental mystic maze."

"The first great problem, the high cost of living, cannot be by a single remedy cured immediately. The difficulty has not been with the law but with the administration of the law."

"When these laws shall be impartially administered when with like diligence the penalties shall be visited not only upon the little profiteer of the village, but the big and powerful profiteer of the city, then some measure of relief will be afforded."

Charging that there were men who by their contempt of law, "aroused the vindictive radicalism which we all abhor," Senator Johnson continued:

"We would deal with this class just as we deal with the preachers of sedition, and it is this knowledge on the part of those who represent them in politics and those who speak for them thru the poison press that brings us today a new epithet—'Radical.' It is the new bogey with which to frighten the timid."

"There are radicals in this country. There are a few who preach the overthrow of the government by force and violence and whom we would all might feel the heavy hand of law. Every normal American would deal drastically with these. But there is another class of radicals, too, who breed the blatant ones and who because of their power and their influence that cunning and their entrenched position are far more dangerous. I would deal in like manner with both classes."

START PROBS OF JAP IMMIGRATION

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Investigation of the Japanese immigration question will be on the Pacific coast, through the members of the house immigration committee.

Representative Johnson of Washington, chairman of the committee, announced late today that at least five members of the committee would direct an investigation, which will cover all Pacific coast states and concentrate in California.

The decision was reached at a conference today between Chairman Johnson and Senator Phelan, Democrat, California.

The latter asked that the committee investigate the situation, with a view to renewing efforts to pass pending legislation which would bar all Japanese immigrants from the Pacific coast and also prohibiting Japanese children born in this country from acquiring citizenship.

The investigation will be conducted following the primary elections through the country. Mr. Johnson said, adding that members would be appointed by telegraph when it was learned who would serve on the committee.

after which Rev. W. H. Marbach read the scripture lesson.

President Rammelkamp feelingly alluded to the great sorrow caused by the untimely death of Dewey Mutch and asked the audience to also stand a moment expressive of the sympathy felt for the bereaved family and it was done. After prayer by Dr. Thomas Smith, President Rammelkamp introduced Rev. W. C. Covert, D. D., alluding to the distinguished services of the gentleman as a pastor, an author, participant in the great world war and as a trustee of Illinois college. The speaker said in part:

"Thinking in Larger Terms. We are thinking today in larger terms than even Illinois college or other enterprises. My theme is taken from the parable of the tares in the wheat. It has long been a cherished word of democracy that the voice of the people was the voice of God but it may be doubted or taken with reservations. It depends on the tone of the voice.

"We do not despair of the wisdom of the people but we recognize perils in democracy which come with liberty. We need the stabilizing effect of self control before our grand ideals can be realized. Democracy must take a calm view of the situation and govern itself wisely.

"Individuals fail to feel the responsibility they should and we hear a chorus of the unthinking cry out for what they wish regardless of the effect on others. We suffer from the evil use of power without responsibility. For instance, the trouble with our railroad system arises from acting without due thought and wisdom.

"Shall we say democracy means no restraint? Is there not some idle ground between czarism and Bolshevism? Democracy makes collective selfishness easy and tempts people to forget the general welfare and forget the grand ideals that should guide a nation.

Freedom Lies Within Reach. "The freedom of the people lies within their reach. Each must be willing to sacrifice something for the general welfare. Our ideal government gives too much opportunity for selfishness and greed.

"The true ideal of brotherhood exists in our land but we must antidote the evils we shall suffer severely. So in the great troubles which invade our happy land today is there not an antidote to be found? The waters of democracy are running bitter with anarchy and other ills, need an antidote and that is the Christian religion, which has stood the test of centuries and never has been found wanting.

A great man, since a candidate for the presidency, said Christianity offered the only safe guard of the nation. The need is imperative; legislation will not accomplish it; diplomacy will not bring it about; men must learn to distinguish between good and evil.

"Unhappy Mexico is a terrible example of a nation whose people and leaders are guided by this principle. A nation with beautiful scenery and every condition for wealth, happiness and prosperity yet torn asunder and in chaos. Christ won by loving men, not questioning them. When men learn to think in terms of duty and the golden age will have arrived. Date Hallowed With Memories.

"Young people of the graduating class. In the midst of your happy and auspicious moments you are in the shadow of a great sorrow. This date will ever be hallowed with sacred memories of the young man whose untimely end we all deplore.

"In life it is quality, not quantity that counts. It is not the life of most years that measures greatness but that which is measured by noble deeds.

"You have the privilege of taking away with you choice things which will well fit you for the duties of life. Take with you a moral passion which will enable you to resist evil and strive only for the good.

"Seek the highest and noblest which means faithful devotion to humble, everyday duties, not percepts grand or productive of fame but build characters for time and eternity and may the Father of good bless you richly in all things."

The benediction by Rev. W. E. Collins closed the exercises.

Evening Service. A goodly audience gathered in the college grove in the evening and enjoyed an excellent service. The music was inspiring, the choir being composed of students. Especially fine was a bass solo by George Gunn whose effort delighted every one present.

Rev. W. H. Marbach presided and after the opening hymn Rev. Thomas Smith, D. D., offered prayer. Rev. E. B. Landis read the scripture selection and Rev. W. E. Collins prayed and then Dr. Covert was introduced. He told in a pleasing manner of the satisfaction it gave him to be present and enjoy the atmosphere of the college, its people and all that pertained to it. He told of a conversation he had with an unlearned mountaineer who said:

"Youns knows more'n weuns and weuns knows more'n youns but we both larn by mixin'." Here he found a real spirit of comradeship which meant each getting under the other man's burden.

Dr. Covert said in part: "The hope of the industrial situation is a genuine comradeship before the great spirit if unrest will be over come. I take as the theme of my discourse the words, 'Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed in thee.'"

"I once asked McCormick, who was engaged in perfecting a flying machine what one thing he needed most to accomplish and he at once replied a stabilizer to steady the machine in the wandering upper currents of the air. And this is what especially we need in this life. We are not much of a success if we lack this one great need, and the scripture read tells how we may have it. In olden times monks would hide themselves in cloisters and even in lonely caves that they might have rest and perfect peace, the very thing they should not have done. We do not overcome troubles by hiding from them but by facing them. Three things we should especially remember:

God is;
God cares;
The best is yet to come;

We suffer because we forget this. We must believe that God is in us, cares for us and is over all but we need more. The Greeks believed in many gods but their deities were not at all concerned with humanity; the Christian religion teaches us that God cares for His children, and trusting Him we may feel sure that all is well.

Then comes the grand fact that the best is yet to come. We have been through an awful world war causing suffering and anguish unknown to our fathers. We are now in the midst of a new world war, a war of the mind, a war of the spirit, a war of the soul.

MRS. HOUSEWIFE

Is your home kept clean and sanitary with a REGINA CLEANER?

Doubtless you wonder why a Regina is a queen, principally because of the Floating brush feature—which is not the old-fashioned brush that has been wrecking rugs and carpets for years but has been built and designed by scientists to clean and protect your rugs and carpets.

If the nap is long the brush will run high, on short nap carpets the brush will run low, the automatic adjustments does away entirely with friction, thereby protecting your carpets.

The floating brush being equipped with fibre sections sends a displacement of air over and under the brush, keeping the brush clean and free from the cotton, threads, lints, and all rough particles, which it sweeps into the bag.

The floating brush turning always in the opposite direction, gently agitates the nap, being always in advance, paves the way for the suction, making the cleaner 100 per cent efficient.

The league has decided to meet regularly during the summer months and prosecute their work as vigorously as possible. The plan is to go out in the morning and first have dinner and then put in the afternoon in games and other pleasant ways, have supper and return home in the evening. A fine time is anticipated by all connected with the church and school and all members of the school, church and congregation are urged to fill their baskets and go along.

CHURCHES TO REMAIN OPEN THIS SUMMER

There seems to be an unusual effort on the part of all churches in the city to remain open during the summer. Several have made definite arrangements for meetings during the pastor's absence and all will try to do so. Of course, a pastor can do far better work in eleven months than he can in twelve and doubtless the churches will see that their spiritual shepherds have a rest during the hot weather, while some one else carries forward the work.

CITY COUNCIL SPENDS VERY BUSY EVENING

Many Matters Considered by City Fathers—Dr. Bowe Enters Protest Against Opening West State Street—Ordinance Licensing Street Fairs Laid Over.

Proceedings of the city council Monday evening were enlivened by remarks by Dr. Edward Bowe and W. E. Sullivan, president of the Eli Bridge company.

Dr. Bowe entered a protest against the city allowing the board of education to open West State street for a sewer. Dr. Bowe said that as a citizen of the city and a property owner on the street he purposed to resist such action.

Mr. Sullivan talked upon the ordinance fixing the license of street carnivals at $300 per week. Mr. Sullivan, who has a wide experience with carnivals thru the manufacture of the Big Eli wheel said that the council should try to fix some method of licensing that would apply according to the number of attractions. In other words the fees for a two car carnival should not be the same as one of twenty-five cars.

Many other matters came up for consideration, among them sewer conditions in West State street. This matter was brought to the attention of the council by Enslay Moore.

Roll call showed all aldermen present except Ald. Moore, Mayor Crabtree presiding. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Opening Kosciuszko Street. A petition was read from property owners residing in the vicinity asking the council to take steps toward opening Kosciuszko street from Edgmon street south to Morton avenue. The petition was referred to the public improvement committee.

A petition from property owners asking for the laying of water main in Marion street was referred to the water committee for action.

Claims against the city were presented and all those properly approved were ordered paid. Reports of Officers were approved.

Wants Relief from Sewage. Enslay Moore addressed the council relative to sewage that backs up in his basement during heavy rains. Mr. Moore asked that the council take some steps toward giving relief from this condition.

Ald. Ehnle called attention to cards relative to the collection of garbage which would be distributed by members of the Civic League. He also in behalf of Ald. Moore reported that Mrs. Dennis Hines had planted a large bed of asters at Jacksonville cemetery and also of the exchange of lots.

Ald. Chapin reported that the switch track to the new power plant would probably be completed this week.

Ald. Flynn reported progress in cleaning of manholes and sewer work. He suggested that all manholes should be fixed so they would hold water in order to make them sanitary.

The ordinance fixing the license for street fairs was given a second reading.

Tells About Street Fairs. W. E. Sullivan spoke upon the ordinance. Mr. Sullivan told his experience with street carnivals as he has had a great deal of business with them thru the manufacture of the Big Eli wheels.

The speaker suggested that it was up to the city officials to see that the shows were clean and that if they were not to close them up. He said there were many clean shows on the road as they were finding this was the best policy. He was of the opinion that an ordinance for licensing such attractions should be on a graduated scale, charging so much for each attraction and concession. The ordinance was laid over for one week in order to give time for further investigation.

Objects to Opening Pavement. Dr. Edward Bowe was present and spoke of the proposed opening of West State street to connect the new high school with the sewer.

Dr. Bowe said he spoke not only as a citizen but as a property owner of West State street. He said that he hoped the city would not permit the street to be opened, but if such action was contemplated the property owners would resist it strenuously.

Speaking of the building, Dr. Bowe said that it seemed to him they needed some one on the job who knows something about building. He said that if the board of education would get Joshua Vasconcellos, Joseph DeGiovie or John Wolke on the job and pay them a good salary for superintending the work they would get some place.

The bonds of George H. Babb, D. N. James and Harry Ham as special policemen in the sum of $500 each were presented and approved and placed on file. At this point Mayor Crabtree announced the appointment on committees made vacant by the death of Ald. Graff. They are as follows:

Committee Appointments. Finance—Ald. Cain. Fire—Ald. Flynn. Cemetery—Ald. Williamson. Public Improvements—Ald. Ehnle.

Judiciary—Ald. McGinnis. Ordinance—Ald. Chapin. Ald. Williamson was excused at this time and left the council chamber.

Ald. Flynn wanted concrete crossing built in the first ward where they were badly needed.

Alderman Chapin presented a bid for chlorine apparatus for the filtration and recommended its acceptance. The bid was for $480 f. o. b. New York City. The purchase was ordered made, as was one for material for the new power plant in the sum of $1,663.57 of the U. S. Electrical Supply company.

An ordinance providing for a sewer in West Edgmon street was read and laid over, under the rules.

A number of minor matters were then discussed after which the council on motion adjourned.

DECATUR TEAM PROVES EASY FOR INDEPENDENTS

Defeat Visitors by Score of 10 to 2—Padgett Allows But Two Hits—Game Loosely Played by Both Teams.

The Illinois Traction System team of Decatur proved easy for the independents at South park Sunday afternoon. The game was one marked by loose fielding on the part of both teams. The final count was 10 to 2, in favor of the locals.

It was the first game at the new park, and with a little more work Manager Smith will have a good baseball field. However, yesterday, the infield was not in the best of shape and the players got many bad hops which resulted in lots of errors.

Newell, of the visitors, was the chief offender. During the afternoon he had four errors charged up against him. If the home batters could have hit everything at him the chances are the teams would have been playing yet.

Padgett pitched an excellent game for the Indians, allowing but two hits, one of these of the scratch order. Hill's offerings were easy for the locals.

The game also was marked by some scintillating fielding stunts. Fanning in right picked a line drive off his shoe tops and then made a great running catch of another drive that was tagged for extra bases.

Happy DeFrates at first also played a great game. He grabbed everything that came his way and saved the infield a number of errors by wide reaching for the ball. He also gathered three base hits, during the afternoon, one of them a double. Fanning also got two safeties, one a long double.

For the visitors the outfielders did some excellent work in pulling down drives. Watkins, back of the log, proved a first-class artist and he kept the home team hugging the bases most of the afternoon.

How the Runs Were Made
The Indians scored one in the first when Flanagan singled and took second, a wide throw by Newell, scoring on DeFrates' double.

Two in the second came singles by Fanning and Christopher and errors by Shockey and Newell. Errors by Newell and Shockey and DeFrates' single, allowed Riggs to make the circuit in the fourth.

Singles by Riggs, Fanning's double and a sacrifice by Grady, put over three counters in the fifth.

Singles by Riggs and Ruhle, a walk and stolen base and Shockey's wild throw counted two in the seventh. The last run came in the eighth when Grady singled, took second on a passed ball, stole third and walked home when Watkins made a balk. The score:

Government and City Health
Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days. Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

HERE'S WORTHY ADVICE MOST GLADLY GIVEN

Mrs. Ramsey, Prominent Springfield Woman, Firmly Convinced of Trutona's Merit.

Springfield, Ill., June 7.—Among the scores of testimonials given daily by the grateful users of Trutona, there is a large number which come from prominent people, many of whom have heretofore been disinclined to publicly endorse any preparation. Here is what Mrs. F. D. Ramsey, of North Glenwood avenue, this city, thinks about the Perfect Tonic:

"I had not been well a single day, since having the flu. I just coughed all the time, I seemed, and in the mornings I would be seized with such coughing spells that I would vomit. I was very nervous. Dizzy spells bothered me too. My bowels would go two or three days without an action, unless I resorted to the use of laxatives.

"I'm feeling so much stronger, since I've taken the first bottle of Trutona. I'm not nearly so nervous. I don't cough like I did and never throw up my food any more. The fainting spells have also ceased to bother me and my constipation has been greatly relieved. Trutona has helped me wonderfully, and I can gladly recommend it to every other. Trutona's helping me more and more every day—it's wonderful."

Trutona is really a medicine of unusual merit. It is unsurpassed as a reconstructive, agency, system purifier and body invigorant. It has been declared peerless as a treatment for stomach, liver and bowel troubles.

Trutona is being explained and introduced in Jacksonville by Coover and Shreve an dby the leading drug store in every town.—Adv.

Daily Market Report

ONE OF STOCK

MARKET UNCERTAIN

NEW YORK, June 7.—Attention of financial and speculative interests today were divided between Chicago and Washington with consequent neglect and uncertainty in the stock market.

Advices from Chicago regarding the Republican convention were so confusing as to leave Wall street in greater doubt than before.

Stocks were tossed to and fro in moderate limits for the most part.

Word of the action of the supreme court in upholding the eighteenth amendment and the 'holdout act' was the signal for a moderate selling movement which effaced most gains, the market closing with a heavy tone.

United States Industrial Alcohol and United States Food Products closed at losses of 24 points and 1/2 of a point, respectively, while representative industrial and railroads recorded net declines of fractions of 3/4 points. Sales amounted to 425,000 shares.

Another late factor was the sudden rise of call money to 10 per cent, after having been loaned freely at six per cent. Further rigid tendencies in time money caused little surprise because of the unsatisfactory credit conditions disclosed by the local federal reserve banks.

Anglo-French issues were again the outstanding features of an irregular bond market.

Liberty issues and the general domestic list tended lower. Total sales, par value, $16,775,000. Old United States 2s and 4s lost 1/4 per cent on call.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF CORN LOWERS PRICE

CHICAGO, June 7.—Reports that much corn was being diverted to Chicago from Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis, had a bearish influence today on the corn market. Prices closed nervous, 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c net lower, with July $1.71 1/2 to $1.71 1/2, and September $1.57 1/2 to $1.57 1/2. Apparently the supreme court dry decision did not affect the value of corn or any other grain except barley, which closed 1/4c to 3/4c a bushel lower. Oats finished a shade off to 1 1/2c advance, and provisions at a decline of 15c to 30c.

Owing chiefly to the fact that receipts here were a little larger than has been the rule of late, the corn market showed something of a setback at the outset. Absence of selling pressure, however, soon led to a material upturn with gossip current that the car supply had not been augmented.

During the last half of the day, attention focussed principally on signs that heavy shipments from Missouri over terminals had been arranged. It also was reported that Argentine corn was being purchased on a big scale at the United States seaboard.

Oats went to new top prices for the season. Receipts continued scanty. Packers selling of lard weakened all provisions.

GIRLS—LADIES—WOMEN

It is said that nine out of ten females are diseased with Constipation—it's terrible. Constipation often results in pimply face, sallow color, bad breath, and mean disposition. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is a "positive" Laxative—mild, pleasant, certain—so thoroughly cleansing and purifying that CONSTIPATION disappears, and when your Constipation goes—your COMPLEXION improves, you feel better, eat better and enjoy living. Give it a thorough trial and you will recommend it to all your women friends. 35c a package.—Armstrong's Drug Store.

WHIPPLE ACADEMY CLASS GIVES PLAY

Graduating Classes Present "The Hour Glass"—Diplomas Presented by Prof. Swift—Whipple Building Used for College Museum.

Probably few if any persons have any idea of the extent and value of the new museum which has been begun in Whipple academy building. The collection is really remarkable. Of flints and pottery the amount and quality are simply wonderful. There is also a good start in the way of mounted birds, shells, mineral specimens and various other departments. Then there are some precious manuscripts pertaining to the early life of the college; a letter from young Mr. Turner to Miss Kibbe, who afterward bore his name. The manuscript of Dr. Sturtevant's autobiography; a number of old time commencement programs, the medical diploma of Dr. H. K. Jones and other articles.

A case is devoted to a collection of china mostly the pottery of the Sturtevant family, though a large dish which was a wedding gift to Prof. and Mrs. Crampton is displayed. There is room for much more and it is earnestly hoped that friends of the college will see that it is all occupied.

Last Commencement Exercises.
Early Monday morning friends of the college noted the clouds with anxiety but the sun came out, a very welcome appearance, and all was well. A well pleased audience gathered under the spreading trees of the campus to enjoy the last commencement exercises of the academy as it has been decided to discontinue that department inasmuch as the class of high schools has so increased in numbers and quality that a preparatory department is no longer needed. The authorities wisely decided to vary the exercises and instead of the usual orations and declamations a short play was presented which was a fine success. Two vocal numbers, "Apple Blossoms" by Miss Edna Hackett, and "The Wind in the South," by Miss Ethyl Hughes, were very artistically rendered. The invocation was by Rev. L. H. Cronkhite of Lynnville.

The play was a unique production by William B. Yeats and is called "The Hour Glass." An old wise man is accosted by a fool, who begs him for a penny and finally gets four for revealing a secret. An angel appears and informs the wise man that he must soon pass away and be forever lost unless within an hour he can find some one to believe in God and immortality.

A Unique Production.
He summons two students whom he has taught for years but they remind him that his instruction has been to the contrary and they have followed it. He calls out his wife with no better results. He has but an hour to live and the sand is rapidly running through the glass before him when the fool appears and on his bended knees the old man asks the simple minded one to utter words of faith which he does and the sage leans forward on his table and is no more.

The play was beautifully staged and the costumes and makeups were excellent. The play was under the capable management of Mrs. P. C. Thompson and with a talented cast it could only be the success it was eliciting many handsome compliments.

The class gave her a large bouquet of roses.

Prizes Announced.
The announcement of prizes and presentation of diplomas was by Roy F. Swift. He complimented the play and then remarked that this was the last commencement of Whipple academy the building would be a memorial to the donor.

The oratory and declamation prize had been divided among the four contestants, Doan, Nickel Rankin and Wilson.

The scholarship prizes were to Nickel, first; and Rankin second. In presenting the diplomas Mr. Swift expressed a hope that an impulse to know more would follow the class through their lives their education was only begun and they yet had much to learn and should be students all their lives. With this impulse wisely guided their success would be certain.

The cast of the play was:
A Wise Man—Francis M. Doan.
A Fool—Hugh M. Wilson.
The Wise Man's Wife—E. Ruth Bates.

An Angel—Esther B. Rankin.
Pupils—Elmer V. Nickel, Olen F. Turner.

The class roll was:
Regular Diplomas—Evelyn Ruth Bates, Frank Monarch Davis, Francis McNamara Doan, Robert Preston Miller, Jr., Elmer Victor Nickel, Esther Byrle Rankin, William Arthur Scott, Olen Fletcher Turner, Hugh Monroe Wilson.

Special Diplomas—George Hummanson Bush, Robert T. Curran, William S. Dews, Charles Nelson Jones, Harry C. Lock.

If You Are Easily Tired Out, Your Blood Needs Purifying

Clogged-up Impurities Will Undermine Your Health

As summer approaches the impurities that have been accumulating in the system throughout the winter begin to clog up the circulation, causing a general weakness and debilitated condition that is generally known as "Summer Sickness."

The first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradually lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Children just at this season are peevish and irritable, and become puny and lifeless.

This whole condition is but the result of impurities in the blood that have been accumulating and make themselves felt more distinctly with the change of season. They show that nature needs assistance in giving the system general housecleaning.

Nearly everybody just now needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities. It is good for the children, for it gives the mnew strength and puts the system in condition so they can more easily resist the many ailments so prevalent in summer. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to old and young.

Those Good Brakes

are aided by special steels

Brakes seem to be one of the overlooked features of a motor car. In a Maxwell they have had the extreme of attention.

For instance, a road engineer, in about 500,000 miles of experimental driving, has constantly tested and studied them.

That is why you can check the speed of a Maxwell in an instant and bring it to a standstill either by foot brake or hand brake.

•Special steels in a Maxwell are largely responsible. They give it extra strength in wear and endurance, but they make the car light in weight.

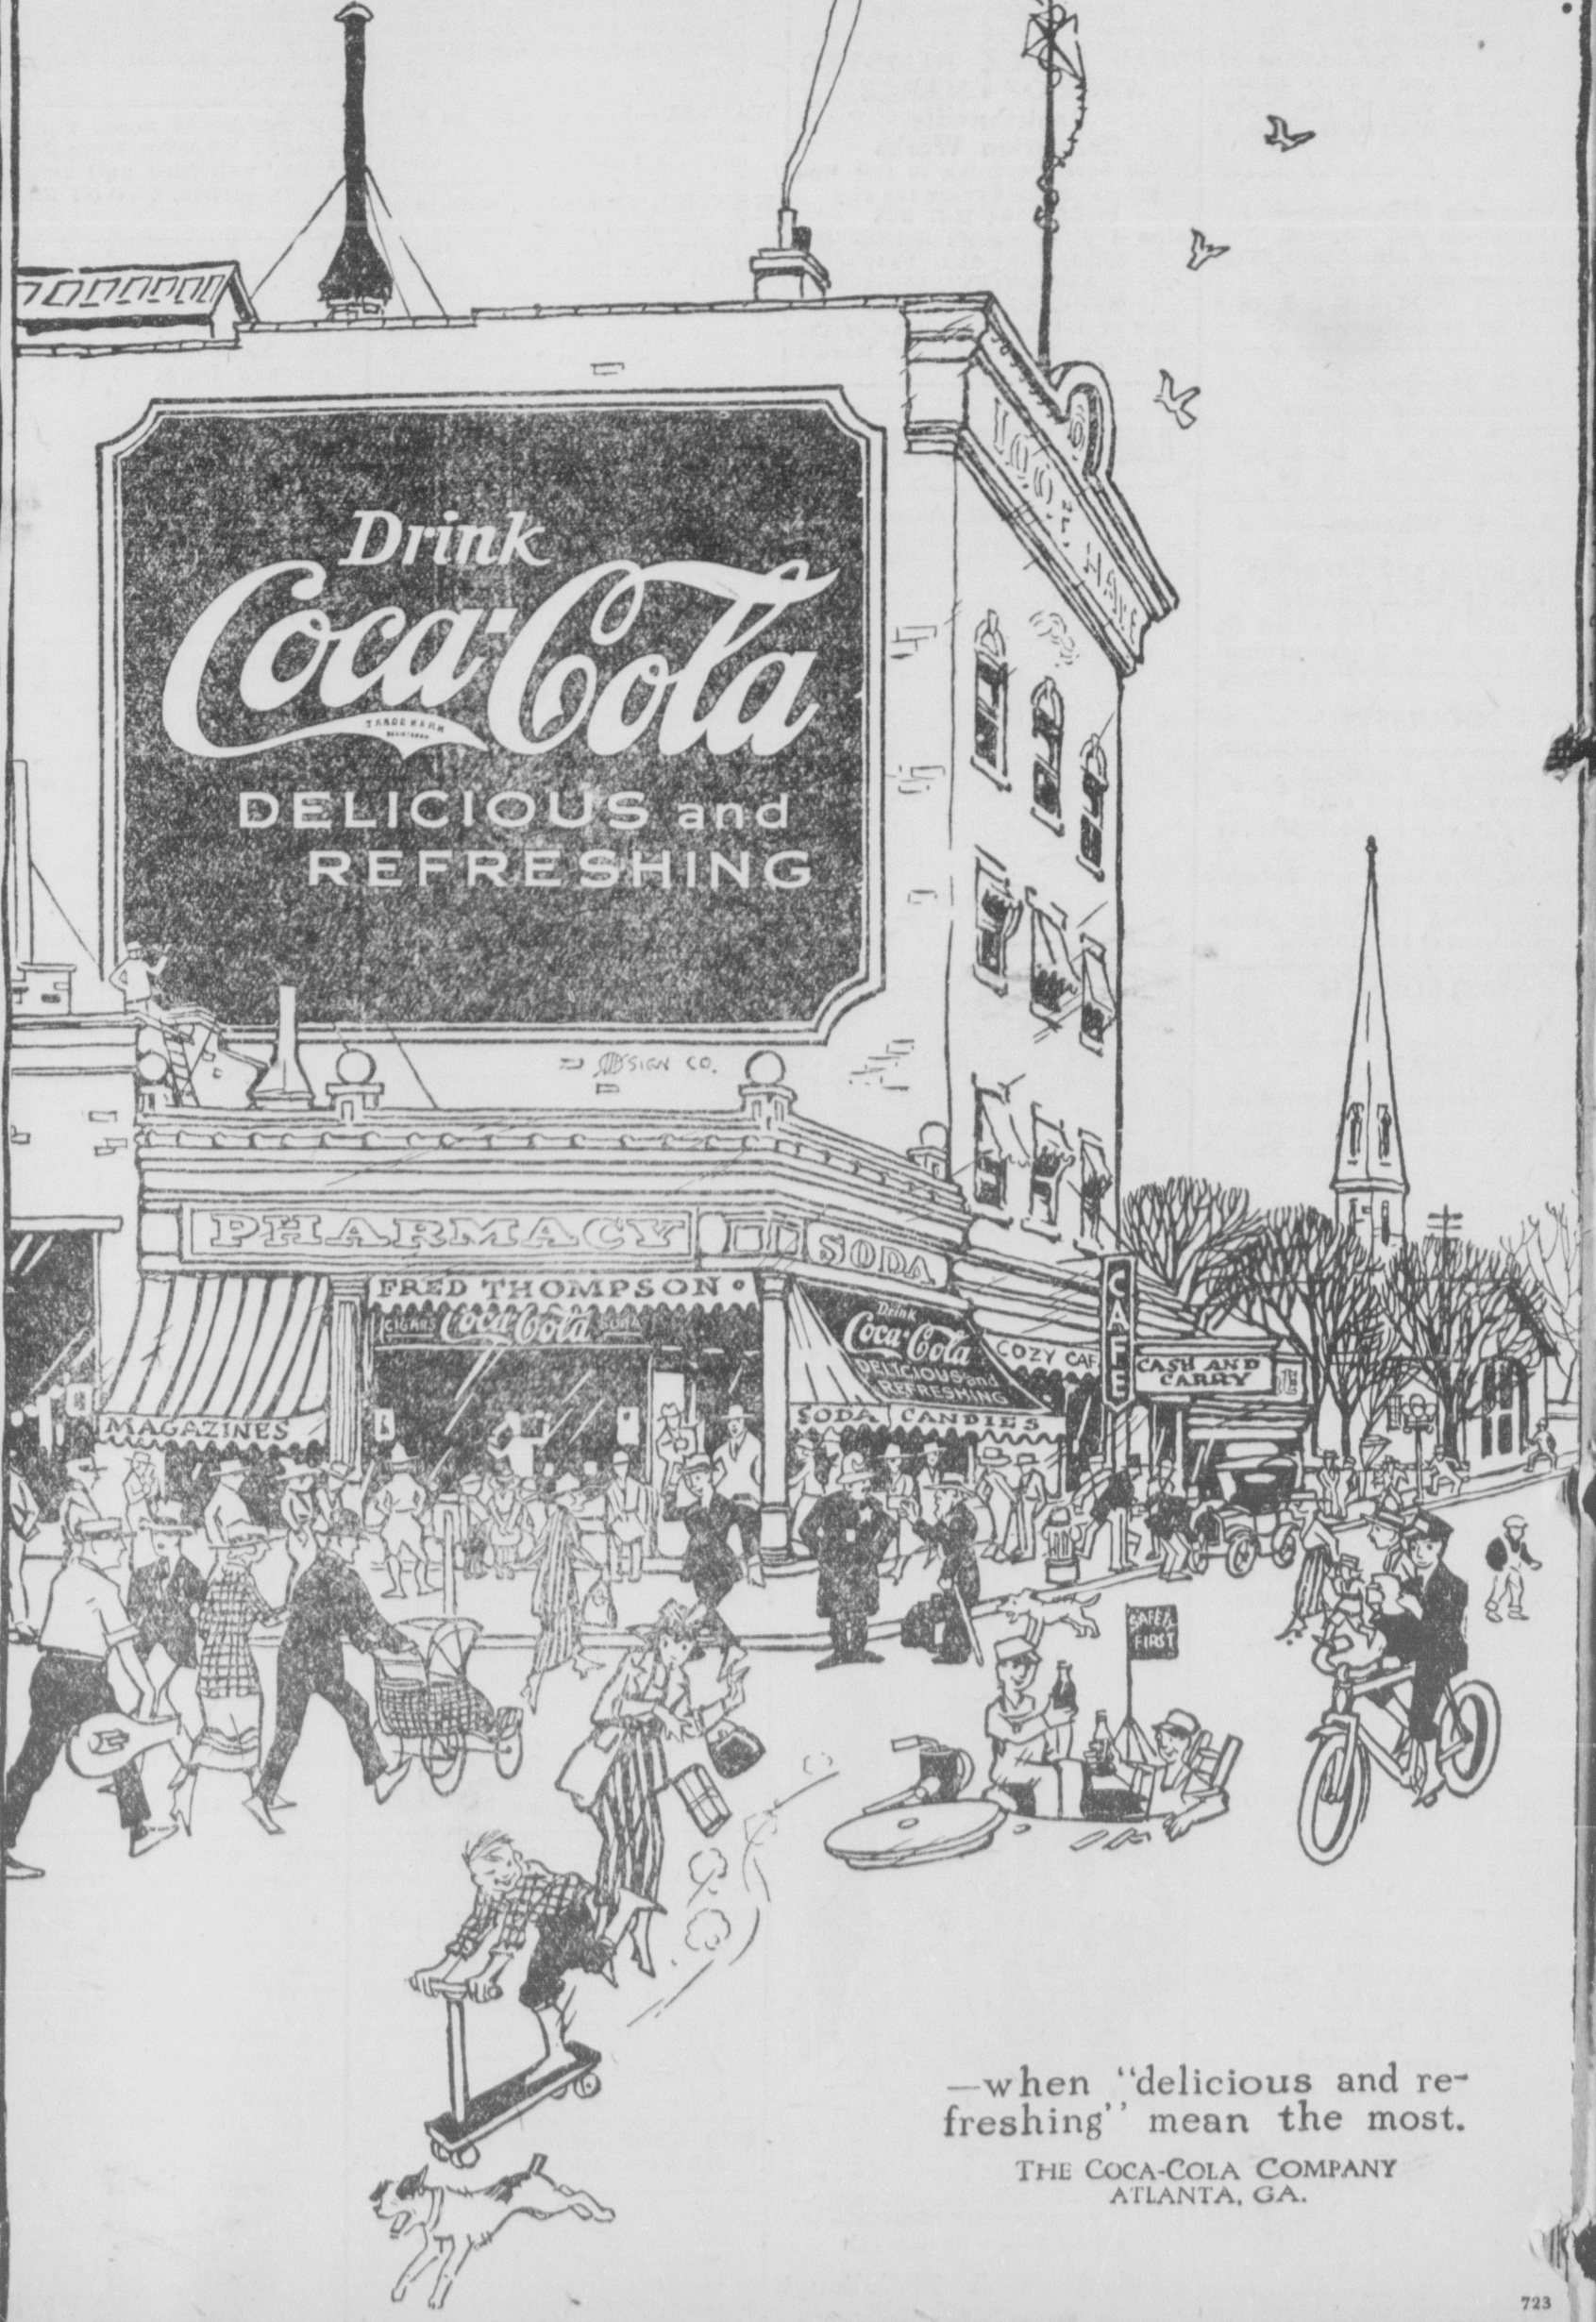

Thus when you call on it to halt, the brakes are not required to "wrestle" with superfluous weight, and the momentum of the car is easily stopped.

These are steels made to Maxwell's own formulae. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built. But no car has steels just like them.

In a large measure they contribute to Maxwell's growing prestige, as expressed in figures like these: nearly 400,000 now in use; and 100,000 more for the year 1920.
